

Northeastern University

Center for Emerging Markets

at the D'Amore-McKim School of Business

INDIA LECTURE SERIES

Tuesday, November 13, 2018

5:00 PM – 6:15 PM

Doors open at 4:30pm

Richards Hall 236

360 Huntington Ave
Boston, MA 02115

Pre-registration required

Light Indian dinner will be offered

Made possible by an anonymous gift to CEM.

Dr. Arjun Subramaniam

Author and Distinguished Visiting Scholar, CEM,
Northeastern University

on

India-China Relations: Can the Dragon and the Elephant Rise Peacefully?

The Center for Emerging Markets presents the 4th India Lecture by Air Vice Marshal Dr. Arjun Subramaniam (Retd.), who will offer a strategic and historical perspective based on his book, India's Wars: A Military History 1947-71 (Harper Collins) and the sequel he is currently working on.

Dr. Subramaniam has a PhD in Defense and Strategic Studies from U. of Madras. He has been a Visiting Fellow at Harvard and Oxford and lectured on Indian military history and India-China relations at Emory, Fletcher, Harvard, MIT, UNC-Chapel Hill, US Air War College, US Naval War College, and other schools.

Registration (required) here:

<https://conta.cc/2Q30Afd>

Or here:

